Description

This traditional farmhouse is located on the edge of the village and enjoys all the traditional features one might find in a farmhouse from stone arches to wooden beams with xorok (stone ceiling slabs) and stone slab floors in some rooms, whilst enjoying wide sweeping country views across the valley, also with distant sea views.

A spacious entrance hall leads to a living with fireplace. This in turn leads into a kitchen / dining area. Also on the ground floor is a twin bedroom with an adjacent shower room with w.c. and basin. All rooms have doors and apertures opening directly onto a large terrace enjoying open country and distant sea views. An external staircase leads down to the pool area and garden.

Internal stairs leads to the first floor where there are two further main bedrooms. One is a double bedroom with en-suite bathroom and it's own terrace, the second is a twin-bedroom with en-suite shower room,
