This old farmhouse is located on the edge of the village yet only 300m from the centre. It is full of traditional features including mangers, arches, beamed ceiling and xorok. On entering into a spacious arched hallway, there are two lateral en-suite bedrooms. In the centre is an internal stone staircase leading to the upstairs. Towards the back there is a snug living and TV room, with a large arched opening onto a spacious open plan dining room and kitchen.

The kitchen then opens onto another living area, which in turn leads
