GOZO REAL ESTATE

Description

We are pleased to offer this lovely old farmhouse, dating back to the 1770's. Typical of farmhouses in Gozo, one first enters into a pretty traditional courtyard with an external staircase and a traditional well. Off this courtyard are entrances to the three main living rooms of the house at this level.

To the right is a very spacious and impressive traditional mill-room with arches spanning down to ground, currently used as a living room. This room opens out onto a private lower garden used for alfresco dining.

Back to the courtyard a doorway straight ahead leads into a very spacious room divided into two spaces, and used as a large dining room, with windows and several doors all overlooking, and leading, into the large garden, creating a light and bright modern space which blends perfectly with the older part of the farmhouse.
