House of Character

A recently built house of character constructed in the traditional style with exposed stone walls and arches situated on the edge of the valley. The accommodation is mainly at street level with three bedrooms, one with en-suite, a separate bathroom and open-plan living/dining room and kitchen. Stairs in the central courtyard lead up to a roof terrace and garden with far-reaching views over Ramla Valley. From the outside terrace stairs descend to the pool area with a small garden set below. There are three other rooms and a shower room at the pool level with the opportunity to make a fourth bedroom and games room.
